

Improving your CQC rating seminar

Are you struggling to meet the Care Quality Commission (CQC) standards? Join our seminar and discover practical steps to achieve a Good rating.

If your service has fallen below CQC expectations, this one-day facilitated session looks at the practical steps to recovering your rating, helping services to rebound.

Maintaining CQC standards is crucial to enhancing your service's reputation. Informed from services who have overcome their obstacles, the session will help you to reflect on your own areas of improvement.

This seminar supports managers and teams from adult social care providers currently rated Requires improvement or Inadequate.

You will learn about:

- how to strategically prepare your team for CQC inspections, ensuring a clear path to success
- mapping out how your service can address the obstacles to improvement and identify practical solutions
- what you will be expected to evidence and how to demonstrate issues have been successfully addressed.
- what resources are available to help.

I feel more confident having gone through this course, knowing there are others in similar situations and that there is support out there to improve the rating.

Nosa Igiehon, Registered Manager
Nationwide Care

I use Skills for Care to improve knowledge and how to meet and exceed the CQC Standards. The pace and content of the course and activities were very well delivered and facilitated. I enjoyed the breakout groups and meeting the other participants.

Paul Emile, Registered Manager
Sequence Care Group

Exclusive toolkit and other resources

All delegates attending this seminar will receive a range of practical resources to support their learning including:

- Improving your CQC rating toolkit: 80-page document covering key learning and practical activities
- Handouts and slide notes: supporting your learning and engagement during the seminar
- Certificate: providing evidence of your attendance.

I learned about what the changes are to inspection. It gave me a lot to think about and how to prepare.
